In accordance to doing so we have undertaken numerous protocols to protect your privacy and data and we will continue to always scrutinise our processes so that we continue to protect your privacy and data. We take our role as a tech company at the utmost importance when it comes to being responsible to handling/storing your personal information.

We have broken up this policy into 9 short sections explaining this further. Please read on below:

- 1. What information do we collect about you?
- 2. When we need your data
- 3. How long will we store your data?
- 4. Marketing
- 5. Access to your information and correction
- 6. Cookies
- 7. Other websites
- 8. Changes to our privacy policy
- 9. How to contact us

What information do we collect about you?

The only time we collect data on you is when you fill in our contact form, email us directly, subscribe to any of our mailing lists or register for an account with us. In the future we will also collect your data should you voluntarily comment on our socials, provide feedback and participate in any of our competitions.

All information we collect from you is provided to us by you and voluntarily supplied to us by you. Due to, Google Analytics, other data of you might form part of our general stats however please know that this data is animalized.

When we need your data

All data we get from you are at points to fulfil your request e.g. if you fill out a 'request for more information' and to contact you back directly, create an account, process an order, manage your account and, and at times if you agree, to email you about other products, services, and information we think may be of interest to you. We will not use your contact information to advertise our service to you on third-party websites such as Facebook and Twitter but we maybe use your contact information to contact you if we have a new service we think you might be interested in. We may also contact you directly to follow up on the service and user experience we provide. We do use your information collected from the website and our other properties to personalise your repeat visits to our website and those properties. We will not pass on your personal information to third parties outside, Silicon VITA, or our properties so unless given the nature where there are 3rd parties within our other properties from which you will then be providing your general data to service providers on, should you register/sign up for their offering. If, Silicon VITA, and/or any of our properties is ever sold to another company your contact information will be passed on to this new party.

How long will we store your data?

We at, Silicon VITA, do not obtain your data in any other manner than the voluntarily data you provide us with and again all data we do collect from you is only for the sole purpose of fulfilling your requests. Your information we will keep until you request from us to delete all your data.
